

Knee Simulator

Building 26 (PEMS South), room G49, contact Heiko Timmers

Movement in the normal knee is a complex combination of rocking, gliding and rotation. This apparatus is employed for tribological studies of knee prosthesis wear under realistic simulated conditions.

